During January 1952 the following activities took place at White Cloud Airfield in Canton:

1. On the morning of 3 January all nine MIG-15 planes stationed at White Cloud left for an unknown destination, and no MIG-15 was at the Airfield for the remainder of the month.
2. On 10 January four reconnaissance planes arrived at White Cloud, and one or two of these have been making occasional reconnaissance flights along coastal areas.
3. Six YAK-9's, six YAK-10's, and six other YAK type planes were stationed at White Cloud and making daily practice flights.
4. In mid-January steel doors were added to the hangers in the caves north-east of the Airfield, and the project is now completed.
5. Fourteen new-style Soviet trucks and 350 cases of unidentified machinery were being stored in the large hangers at the foot of Wuts'englou (五層樓), south of the Airfield. No planes have been in these hangers since they were completed.
